

Biography Note

Name: George Xanthos

Current position: Associate Professor, Dept of Business Administration & Tourism ,HMU

Tel.: +30 2810-379628

Email: xanthosg@hmu.gr

Dr. Xanthos works as an Associate Professor in Regional Economics in the Department of of Business Administration & Tourism as well as an Associate Professor in the MSc programme of “Hospitality and Tourism Management” and “MBA for Engineers” at Hellenic Mediterranean University. Dr. Xanthos research and academic interests include regional planning, forecasting at regional level and data analysis. He has graduated from the department of Economics of Piraeus University and holds an MSc degree in Regional Development from Pantion University of Athens and an PhD degree from the same University. He has published in various international journals. He has also presented her research work in national and international conferences. Besides her academic achievements. He has also worked as a Consultant for the Regional Authorities of Crete Island. Dr. Xanthos has participate in many EU founded research programmes.

Academic Journals: 20 peer reviewed papers

Scientific Conferences: conference paper presentations (peer reviewed)

Academic Interests:

Regional development planning, Forecasting at regional level, Tourism data analysis and planning at regional level